Discussions

For each Discussion, students are required to post an initial answer addressing the topic (new thread). Well-thought-out postings that add something intellectually to the discussion are required for a good grade.

For this course, each discussion is worth 10 points. In each posting, your ideas should be well developed (at least a paragraph) and introduce new ideas with clear evidence of critical thinking (i.e. you apply current knowledge, analyze comments, synthesize the discussion points, and evaluate the ideas. Discussions must be posted on time and are not accepted late.

Note: Replies can be posted by Thursday by 11:59 PM

To post an answer to an assigned discussion:

Click on the Discussion Board

Review the question and click on a Discussion (i.e. Week 1 Discussion 1)

Click on Create Thread

Enter a subject and type your answer to the topic box.

Scroll down and click on Submit

For each discussion you must also post two replies to another student or your professor commenting on their post and if you agree or disagree with reason. Your reply should add to the discussion.

Statements such as “I agree” or “good answer” are not counted unless supported by a reason.

To post a reply:

Click on the Discussion Board

Click on a Discussion (i.e. Week 1 Discussion 1)

Click on a student’s post

Review the post and click on Reply

Enter your reply and click on Submit.

Assignments:

Assignments are to be submitted by the due date using the “Assignment” feature in blackboard.

Multiple Choice questions and selected chapter Case Studies will be assigned for each chapter.

Assignments are accepted late (one week maximum) with a 20% penalty. Assignments more than 1 week late are not accepted and will score a 0.

Questions

In each chapter you will, as a class, be answering certain end-of-chapter questions in the textbook. Here is the process for doing this: Choose one question from the chapter Discussion

Questions. Post an answer to one question as an initial thread. Enter the Question number in the subject box.

Research Project:

Students will prepare and submit a research paper detailing a case of fraud. In the analysis students must apply concepts (i.e. fraud triangle) to the fraud case under investigation. The paper should be at least eight pages in length, referenced and properly presented according to APA guidelines.

Open Door Policy

Since your learning is my primary concern, it is imperative that anything preventing you from learning be discussed. Please feel free to make an appointment with me or call/text my cell # so that I can help you keep on track.

Experiential Learning Opportunities:

Students will submit a research project concerning a fraud case.
Utilizing tools of fraud investigation students will analyze actual fraud case studies.
